Parable of the Rich Fool

And [Jesus] told them a parable, saying, "The land of a rich man produced plentifully, and he thought to himself, 'What shall I do, for I have nowhere to store my crops?' And he said, 'I will do this: I will tear down my barns and build larger ones, and there I will store all my grain and my goods. And I will say to my soul, "Soul, you have ample goods laid up for many years; relax, eat, drink, be merry.'" But God said to him, 'Fool! This night your soul is required of you, and the things you have prepared, whose will they be?' So is the one who lays up treasure for himself and is not rich toward God."

We Can't See Our Own Greed

"I cannot recall anyone ever coming to me and saying 'I spend too much money on myself. I think my greedy lust for money is harming my family, my soul and people around me.' Greed hides itself from the victim. The money god's modus operandi includes blindness to your own heart."

Self-Justification Blinds Us

"You don't compare yourself to the rest of the world, you compare yourself to those in your bracket. The human heart always wants to justify itself and this is one of the easiest ways. You say, 'I don't live as well as him or her or them. My means are modest compared to theirs.' You can reason and think like that no matter how lavishly you are living."

Love, Trust & Obey

“According to the Bible, idolaters do three things with their idols. They love them, trust them, and obey them. ‘Lovers of money’ are those who find themselves daydreaming and fantasizing about new ways to make money, new possessions to buy, and looking with jealousy on those who have more than they do. ‘Trusters of money’ feel they have control of their lives and are safe and secure because of their wealth. Idolatry also makes us ‘servants of money.’ Just as we serve earthly kings and magistrates, so we ‘sell our souls’ to our idols. Because we look to them for our significance (love) and security (trust) we have to have them, and therefore we are driven to serve and, essentially, obey them.”

The Price of Discontentment

Keep your life free from love of money, and be content with what you have, for he has said, “I will never leave you nor forsake you.” So we can confidently say,

“The Lord is my helper;
I will not fear;
what can man do to me?”

Our Deeper Idols

“‘Surface idols’ are things such as money, our spouse, or children, through which our deep idols seek fulfillment. We are often superficial in the analysis of our idol structures.” Tim Keller

A Study in Grace vs. Works

The Rich Ruler (Luke 18:18-27)

- Sought to justify himself based on his works
- Christ exposed his idol of possessions.
- Apart from a work of God, we cannot be free of our idols

Zacchaeus (Luke 19:1-10)

- Idol-maker of money
- Received radical grace from Jesus and then responded with radical grace to others
